Mary Cheyne [pronounced 'Sheen'], MBA, is an award-winning communicator and the Founder of Magnetic Podium, an organization that helps people find their unique voice and communicate with impact.

During her 15+ years of experience training and speaking to more than 10,000 people from over 25 cities, Mary has learned one important thing:

To communicate and persuade effectively, the first person you need to convince is yourself.

Guided by this principle, Mary has devised tools and techniques to help you communicate and influence with impact.

Mary used these effective communication strategies to win the 2009 World Championship of Public Speaking 1st Runner-up Title. In this international contest Mary beat out over 25,000 contestants from 14 countries.

Mary's communications accolades have been featured in The Boston Globe and she has appeared on TV Shows in New York and Massachusetts.
